

Alde Heating Mat

First-class comfort behind the wheel

The single glazed windscreen makes the driver's cabin the coldest area in most motorhomes. But the Alde Heated Mat provides an elegant, tried and tested solution.

Driving along with icy cold feet isn't much fun, but chilly weather can also sap the heat out of the vehicle via the windscreen when you're parked up. By emitting heat from the footwell, warm air rises between the windscreen and the interior, improving all-round efficiency.

Easy and quick connection

Alde Heating Mat is connected to the hydronic heating system with quick connections. So just put the heating mat in place, connect and enjoy the highest comfort on the coldest days and nights.

Alde Heating mat

Alde Heating Mat enhances warmth and comfort in the motorhome.

The heating mat is made of materials from the commercial vehicle industry:

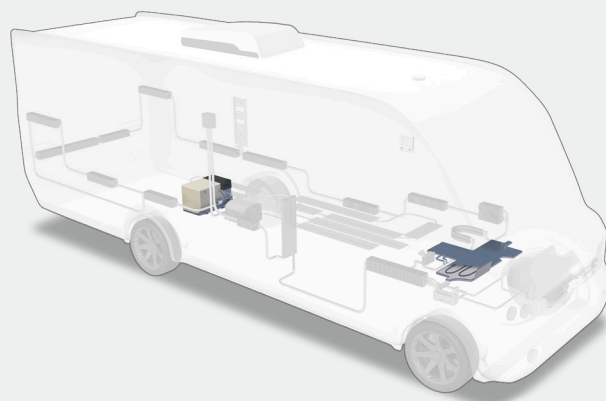

- Heat resistant PU-foam.
- Temperature safe to 90 °C.
- Water repellent.
- Eyelets for attaching the mat.
- Ø 12 mm hose connections to the convector system.
- Available in different format and models to fit your motorhome.

Models

Alde heating mat is available in the following

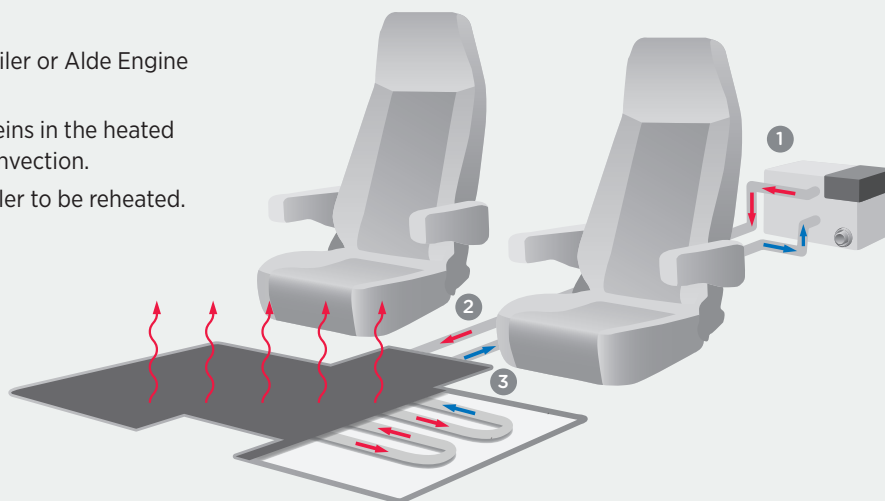

Left-Hand Drive chassis models:

- Citroën, Fiat, Peugeot and Mercedes Benz Sprinter.

This is how it works

1. Glycol fluid is heated by the Alde boiler or Alde Engine Heat Exchanger.
2. Hot glycol fluid circulates through veins in the heated mat and emits its heat by natural convection.
3. Cooler glycol fluid returns to the boiler to be reheated.

Advantages with a Alde Heating Mat

- Can heat the driver's cab whilst driving with an Alde Engine Heat Exchanger fitted.
- Improves efficiency of the motorhome's central heating even when parked.
- Durable, water repellent surface that is easy to keep clean.
- Available in various formats and designs to suit different vehicle models.
- Connects to Alde heating system with quick-release coupling.

How to get an Alde Heating Mat installed in your vehicle

- For retrofitting to your existing Alde heating system, contact your nearest Alde Service Partner or Alde UK. Contact information can be found on our website.
- As an accessory when buying a new motorhome, talk to your supplying dealer.